Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses after Fee Waiver and/or Expense Reimbursement	0.96%

⁽¹⁾ The Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses for the Fund do not correlate to the Ratio of Expenses to Average Net Assets in the Financial Highlights which reflects the operating expenses of the Fund and does not include acquired fund fees and expenses (“AFFE”). For the fiscal year ended June 30, 2017, AFFE for the Fund was less than 0.01%.

⁽²⁾ RMB Capital Management, LLC (the “Adviser”) has contractually agreed to reduce its compensation due from and/or assume expenses of the SMID Cap Fund to the extent necessary to ensure that the SMID Cap Fund’s operating expenses (excluding taxes, interest, brokerage commissions and acquired fund fees and expenses, if any, and other extraordinary expenses) do not exceed 0.95% of the SMID Cap Fund’s average net assets. The fee waiver and expense reimbursement agreement is in effect until November 1, 2018, with successive renewal terms of one year thereafter unless terminated by IronBridge Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) or the Adviser prior to any such renewal. Prior to November 1, 2018, the expense cap agreement can be terminated by the Company’s Board of Directors or shareholders. To the extent the Adviser waives its compensation and/or absorbs expenses to satisfy the expense cap, it may seek repayment by the SMID Cap Fund of a portion or all of such amounts at any time within three years from the date on which such amounts were waived or absorbed, provided that the SMID Cap Fund is able to make the repayment without exceeding the lesser of the expense cap in effect at the time of the waiver or in effect at the time of the repayment.

Expense Example.

This Example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the SMID Cap Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds.

This Example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the SMID Cap Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The Example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the SMID Cap Fund's operating expenses remain the same (taking into account the expense cap for one year). Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

If you sell your shares in:	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
SMID Cap Fund	$98	$308	$535	$1,189

Portfolio Turnover.

The SMID Cap Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the Example, affect the fund's performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the SMID Cap Fund's portfolio turnover rate was 34% of the average value of its portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies.

The SMID Cap Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing, under normal market conditions, at least 80% of its assets (plus borrowings for investment purposes) in equity securities of companies with small-to-medium market capitalizations. For this purpose, the Adviser defines a small-to-medium capitalization company as a company that has a market capitalization of between $100 million and $10 billion, which definition is applied at the time of purchase. The SMID Cap Fund may invest in unsponsored American Depositary Receipts and/or Global Depositary Receipts, and may invest a significant portion of its assets in financial services companies.

The Adviser actively manages the SMID Cap Fund by applying an economic return framework, which measures the SMID Cap Fund's return on investment and adjusts for factors such as inflation or accounting treatments. This is a valuation model that uses cash flow to determine a company's value, rather than traditional accounting measures such as corporate performance, earnings and book value. The Adviser uses this methodology to identify attractively-priced companies, and as a result, the SMID Cap Fund invests primarily in growth and value-style equity securities.

The Adviser reduces positions or sells securities in the SMID Cap Fund for a variety of reasons, such as when the securities reach their target price or when a position would exceed 5% of the SMID Cap Fund's net assets.

Principal Investment Risks.

Market Risk. The general level of stock prices as a whole could decline, causing a decline in the value of your investment.

Small-to-Medium Capitalization Risks. Securities of companies with small-to-medium market capitalizations are often more volatile, less liquid and more susceptible to market pressures than securities of larger issuers.

Stock Selection Risk. Individual stocks may decline in value or not increase in value, even when the stock market in general is rising.

Liquidity Risk. The Adviser may not be able to sell the SMID Cap Fund's securities at a time or at a price that would benefit the Fund.

Equity Securities Risk. Equity securities, such as common stocks, are subject to greater volatility and chance of decline than other securities, such as fixed-income securities.

Management Risk. There is no guarantee that the Adviser will choose investments that increase in value.

Growth Investing Risk. Growth companies are generally more susceptible than established companies to market events and sharp declines in value.

Value Investing Risk. Value stocks may not increase in price, may not issue the anticipated stock dividends or may decline in price, based upon the market's belief of the issuer's intrinsic worth.

American Depositary Receipt (ADR) / Global Depositary Receipt (GDR) / European Depositary Receipts ("EDRs") Risk. ADRs are receipts issued by U.S. banks evidencing ownership in securities of foreign issuers, and GDRs and EDRs are receipts issued by banks in more than one country evidencing ownership in securities of foreign issuers. Securities of foreign issuers, and consequently ADRs, GDRs, and EDRs may decrease in value due to changes in currency exchange rates, the economic climate in the issuer's home country or for a variety of other reasons.

Loss of Money Risk. Loss of money is a risk of investing in the SMID Cap Fund.

Financial Services Risk. Investing a significant portion of assets in the financial services sector may cause the SMID Cap Fund to be more sensitive to the risks and concerns facing financial companies.

Performance.

The bar chart and table below show how the SMID Cap Fund has performed in the past and provides some indication of the risks of investing in the SMID Cap Fund. The table shows how the performance of the SMID Cap Fund has varied from year to year as compared with the performance of the Russell 2500[®] Index, a securities index that measures the performance of the small-to-medium capitalization segment of the U.S. equity universe. For periods prior to July 23, 2010, the performance shown is that of the SMID Cap Fund's predecessor, the Frontegra IronBridge SMID Cap Fund (the "Predecessor SMID Fund") which commenced operations on December 31, 2004 and was reorganized into the SMID Cap Fund on July 23, 2010. Upon reorganization, the SMID Cap Fund assumed the financial and performance history of the Predecessor SMID Fund's Institutional Class shares, which maintained the same fees and expenses as the SMID Cap Fund. Keep in mind that past performance (before and after taxes) may not indicate how well the SMID Cap Fund will perform in the future. Updated performance information can be found on our website at www.ironbridgefunds.net or by calling toll-free to 1-877-861-7714.
